

BARS & BACKFITTINGS

case study: Boughton Pumping Station location: Boughton near Lincoln.

Brief : Recently purchased by an independent client this beautiful historic pumping station is to be gradually refurbished in phased developments to become a leading wedding and conference facility within the area.

IWCF were highly recommended by the brewery and brought on board to work closely with the customer, breathing new life into this wonderful old building. Our first phase design brief was to provide a new bar facility within the main function room creating classic looks combined with elegant simplicity, providing a focal point within the room that would suit the future transitions to multi use function venue.
